

Daily Appeal

MEMPHIS.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1860.

Reading Matter on Every Page

Largest Circulation in the City.

CIRCULATION OF THIS EDITION.....3,200

CIRCULATION OF PREVIOUS EDITION.....2,900

CIRCULATION OF WEEKLY.....3,000

CIRCULATION OF WALLS.....3,000

FIRST AND FOURTH PAGES.

Front Page—Our Interstate Relations—In-

portant Message of Gov. Leitch—Gov. Ken-nally—Benton—With the South—Benton

Benton's Terrible Winter's Journey;

Admission of Kansas.

Front Page—Partial—Confederacy—The

Little White Little; Graphic Description of the Opening of Parliament.

THE ELECTION TO-DAY.

We record the fact that the special election of the common law court of the city of Memphis will take place today, to supply the vacancy created by the resignation of Hon. Jas. P. Moore.

It is an important moment in the policies of the country, the proper administration of the laws, by attending the poll and casting his suffrage for one or other of the candidates. The candidates before the poll are Mr. G. W. Moore, Hon. Jas. P.

Moorehouse, Bent, and J. CALVIN JOX, Esq.

THE CONVENTIONAL INVESTIGA-

TION.

We have the pleasure of a full yesterday from our esteemed Senator, Col. G. R.

Parsons, a copy of the Memphis Daily Appeal.

From him we learn that the conventional investigation, as far as possible, has been completed, and that the agreement is now in force.

The investigation of the acts of the Senate, and the action of the Senate in reference thereto, is now referred to the committee of the Senate, and the same will be considered at their next session.

THE DEMOCRATIC SENATORS AND

A TERRITORIAL PLATFORM.

The Ohio Statemen, in their last annual convention, on the subject of slavery in the Territories, speak in new words it seems the effects of the Democratic Senators in caucus to form a territorial platform, may be well known.

But the time has come when they will attempt to make a platform for the Charleston convention, on the Territorial question, they will use a power not declared to them, and, on addition thereto, the law.

The people are delegating the authority of the representatives whom they are sending to Charleston, who are from among them, to do the work desired to be done.

Now, the time is come, in which it is impossible to understand the platform, and the principles upon which it is based.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Douglass.

It is now evident that all the efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Mr. Austin has been removed, and

General Wirtz appointed in his place,

and was elected as a pledged friend of Doug-

lass.

It is now evident that all the

efforts of the South to secure a

partial victory will be fruitless.

But the time has come when they

will attempt to make a

partial victory.